Veneers Local anaesthetic

If you have been diagnosed with caries or a small to medium fracture of the tooth crown, action is required to prevent the situation from worsening. Perhaps you would also like to correct a small misalignment of the teeth. In cases such as this, Dr. Víctor J. Hernández Darías recommends a veneer made of plastic or comparable materials. The material that is used depends on your personal habits and chewing behaviour.

The success rate for this procedure varies from person to person and will be discussed in detail, but it is very high if you collaborate closely with us. Reduced mouth opening and excessive saliva flow can negatively impact the durability and treatment success.

The treatment takes place in one session and takes between 30 minutes and one hour.

If caries is present, it must first be completely removed. Dr. Víctor Hernández Darías then prepares the tooth for impressions with silicones and/or alginates.

Treatment alternatives are crowns made of ceramic or plastic. However, considerably more tooth substance is removed here.

Consent to the dental procedure

I have been informed that the above-mentioned measure is to be carried out on me.

I was adequately informed about the nature, purpose and course of the intervention, as well as about its main advantages and disadvantages and risks, also in comparison to other methods of examination, treatment, surgery and refraining from the intervention.

I am aware that under certain circumstances the intervention may have to be supplemented and an extension or modification of the planned measures may only prove necessary at a later date. I have been made aware of possible physical, psychological and professional complications in the period following the procedure. I was also made aware of the following possible complications:

- Allergic reactions
- Numbness
- Aspiration of objects
- Injury to the soft tissues
- Failure, further need for treatment
- Damage to the tooth nerve
- Sensitivities after treatment
- Incorrect shade matching/bite matching
